GARLINGHOUSE

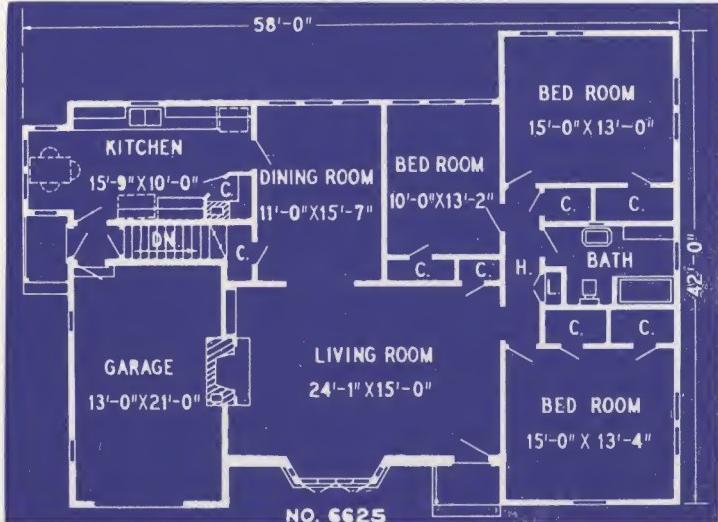

BLUE RIBBON HOMES

A Selection of the Nation's Most Popular Homes by America's Pioneer Plan Service

Published by L. F. GARLINGHOUSE CO., INC., Topeka, Kansas

No. 6625

No. 6625—This lovely cottage is quite simple yet outstanding in design. The plan shows six fine rooms, a complete bath with both tub and shower, eight closets and a garage. There is a basement under the entire house with a recreation room and facilities for both heating and laundry. We specify the foundation to be of concrete and the house is constructed of frame with a beautiful combination of siding and brick for the exterior. The roof may be either wood or composition shingles.

No. 6705—This very neat and attractive ranch type design contains a large living room, dining room, kitchen with breakfast corner, three bed rooms, six closets, double garage and a large front porch. The stairs up from the dining room lead to a large storage attic and the stairs going down from the entry lead to a full basement with a large recreation, heating and laundry rooms. The foundation is stone and the house is frame with sided exterior with stone trim across the front of the front bed room. The roof may be either wood or composition shingles.

No. 6705

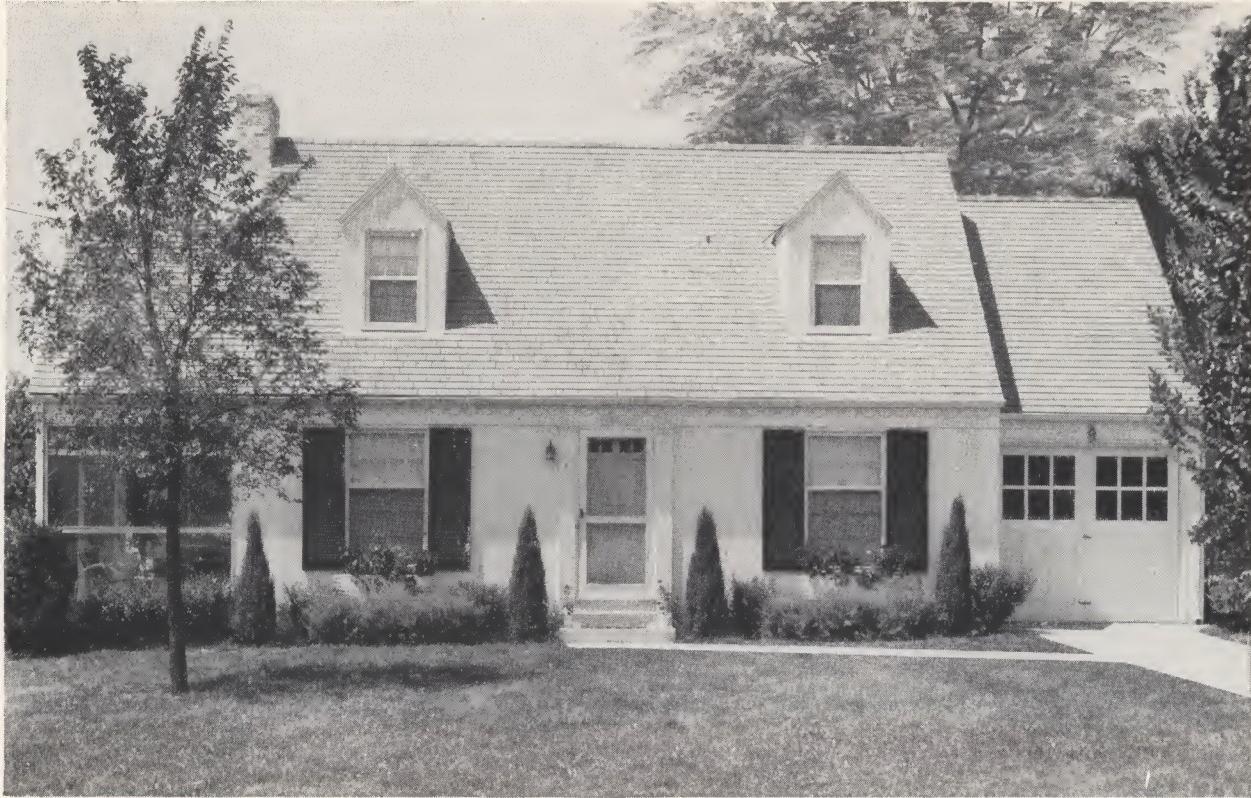

No. 6687

No. 6687—A small ranch design with many plus features. The simple, straight-forward lines and elevations add to the economy of construction. The compact plan utilizes all the available space to good advantage without sacrificing the size of the rooms. The kitchen is compact and includes sufficient space for eating. Note the large and numerous closets to assure sufficient storage space.

No. 4757

No. 4757—This attractive 1½ story Cape Cod design employs the use of vertical siding for the exterior. Sliding doors are specified in the closets of upstair bed rooms to allow maximum use of floor space. If house is to be placed on a narrow lot, porch and garage may be easily omitted without detracting from the general appearance. Location of the nursery next to the master bed room makes it easy for the mother to watch after the small children. The large recessed window in the nursery is well elevated from the floor. The bathroom on the first floor is so arranged that it may be either a private bath for the bed room or may serve as a powder room with access through the hall off the kitchen.

Complete plans save many times their cost in assuring good construction and in eliminating possible misunderstanding between the builder and the owner.

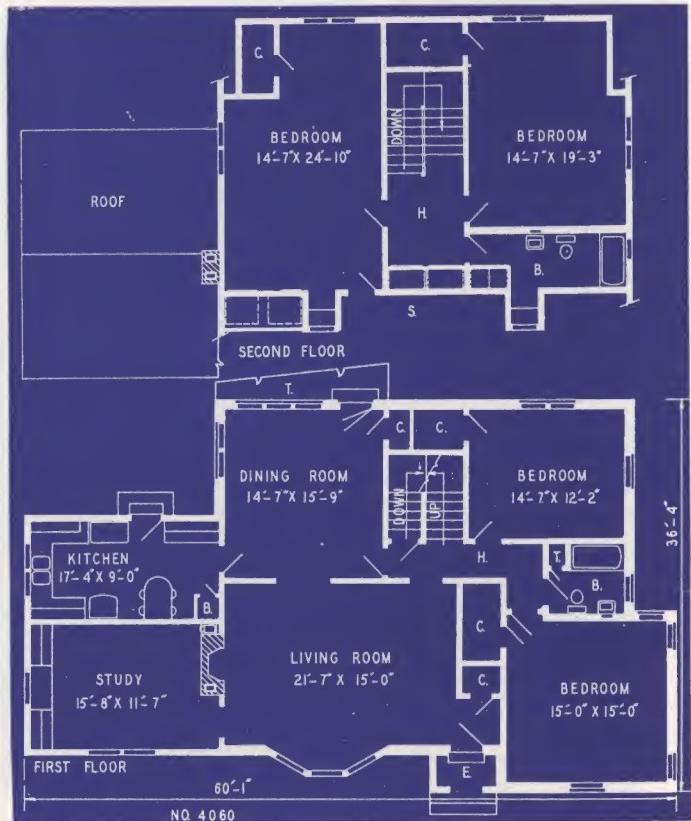

No. 4060

No. 4060—This eight room Colonial home has many noteworthy features. Each of the four bed rooms is of generous size and ample closet space has been provided throughout the entire house. There are built-in chests of drawers located in the large second floor bed room and hall. The study or den with book shelves at one end is set off from the living room and can be closed off entirely, if desired, by the addition of a door. The U-shaped kitchen contains plenty of cupboard space and sufficient room for a breakfast table. The house is of frame construction brick veneered, with siding used on the study, kitchen and second floor exteriors.

To build without definite plans invites misunderstandings, possibilities of costly mistakes, and faulty, weak construction.

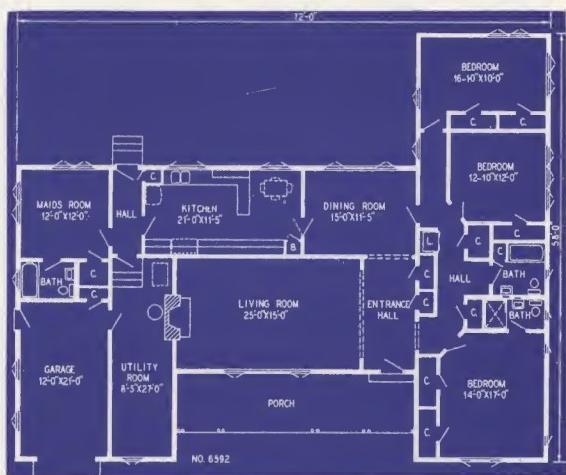

No. 6592—This neat and attractive design will attract the attention of anyone passing by. Despite the spread-out plan, close examination of the floor plan diagram will show that the various quarters of the house are compact and well-arranged. The hall leading to the three bed rooms and bath is easily accessible from the front entrance. The living room, with the fireplace located at one end offers many possibilities for furniture arrangement. The maid's room is conveniently located by the rear entrance. Construction is frame stuccoed.

No. 6303

No. 6303—Clean, conservative lines of this five-room cottage are appealing. Large windows flood the well-proportioned living room with light; the kitchen permits use of table and chairs in front of a double window facing the street. Bed rooms are corner rooms, cross ventilated. Note abundance of large closets, well-placed hall and neatness of the attached garage. Basement recreation, furnace and laundry rooms are reached from the rear entry.

No. 6410

No. 6410—Soft-toned Roman bricks provide a luxurious exterior to match the spaciousness and convenience of the interior of this exceptionally attractive suburban home. These bricks are only $1\frac{1}{8}$ inches high. Built on a gently-sloping lot, the bedroom wing is on a level two steps below the remainder of the house. To the rear of the L-shaped multi-purpose living room is a window identical to that in the front center. It overlooks a flagstone terrace. The lavatory in the rear is so located as to serve the living area as well as being a wash-room for the gentleman-gardener and for the children as they come in from play.

No. 6405

No. 6405—For this attractive ranch-type house the designers have planned an exterior appearance of spaciousness with an interior that appeals to the cost-conscious home-owner who desires to keep his construction in the medium-priced bracket. The floor arrangement is compact; for example, the lavatory in the master bedroom occupies no more space than a large closet, all regular closets have sliding doors to save floor space, and the hall-way door is of the folding-curtain type. The shingles are asbestos-cement. The basement is ample, but considerable expense is saved since it extends only under the mid-section of the house.

No. 6791

No. 6791—An atmosphere of peace, quiet and contentment surrounds this lovely little house. An unusual corner fireplace is found in the living room. The floor plan shows six very well arranged rooms, bath, five fine closets and a garage. The many built-in cupboards make the kitchen a housewife's delight. In the basement are recreation, heating, lavatory, laundry and storage rooms. The house is frame with a combination of brick veneer and siding for the exterior.

No. 6365

No. 6365—Stucco, raked out to accent the horizontal lines across the front and the garage, is used for the exterior of this compact, efficient modern country home. The front gable is plywood. Whereas the cut stone of the chimney is extended for trim across the bedrooms and the planting box, it is omitted on the other elevations. The breakfast table is suspended from the rafters, leaving the floor clear to make it easier for seating around the circular table. There is a partial basement.

No. 6415—Seldom does one find so pleasant a variety of exterior materials combined to produce such a distinctive appearance in a house of this size. The same unity of cut stone, 6-inch drop siding, and 16-inch frieze is used on all four elevations. Because the house has both a full dining room and a serving bar in the kitchen, the nook behind the kitchen could be developed for an automatic laundry use instead of a dinette. To provide for additional natural illumination glass blocks have been specified for the wall between the kitchen and living room. Eight closets assure ample storage space. There are two complete baths.

urious ranch-type house. Designed for gracious living and easy entertaining, it brings the recreation room out of the basement and makes it a center of interest by combining it with a large dining room at the secluded rear. Built-ins are used throughout to provide on-spot storage and to give added utility to wall areas. Construction is of brick veneer over frame, except in the garage where tile is used for backing. There is a laundry, heating room, and lavatory with shower in the basement which extends only under the mid-section of the house.

No. 6655—(Above and left)—This beautiful brick-veneered home has a distinctive individuality not always attained where simplicity rules. The floor plan shows a wonderful arrangement consisting of a large entrance hall, extremely well-ventilated living room, farm-sized kitchen with breakfast nook, two ample bed rooms, each with twin closets, and a bath with both tub and shower. (A supplemental plan showing this house with a utility room is included at no extra charge).

No. 89

No. 3442 — (Below) — Special consideration was given to the planning of this home to offer spacious, well-ventilated rooms in the confines of the narrow lots of congested areas. Worthy of recognition is the arrangement of the dinette, achieving maximum use of this area by using it as the entranceway leaving full use of the living room for furniture arrangement.

Select Your Fireplace With Full Information

Our top recommendation for year-round satisfaction is the Donley Heatsaver Fireplace, that circulates heat (more than you expect) from outlet grilles that may be placed in the immediate room or other rooms, combining the charm of an open fire with the efficiency of a small furnace . . . Many small homes are adequately heated by the Heatsaver alone. In larger homes it brings comfort during chilly "between" seasons. Burning any solid fuel, it is a godsend when more complicated heating devices fail . . . But if your choice is a simple masonry fireplace, it makes a lot of difference how it is planned and built. The Book of Successful Fireplaces is a standard guide for architects and has brought fireside happiness to thousands of homes . . . Now about outdoor fireplaces — Everyone enjoys hot meals cooked in the open, also a bright evening glow lighting lawn and garden. Outdoor Fireplaces, How to Build Them, tells you how to avoid mistakes and get the most from your barbecue investment.

WHICH BOOKLET SHALL WE SEND?

Check No. 1, enclosing 50 cents (U. S. stamps accepted), 60 cents to Canadian addresses, and you will receive The Book of Successful Fireplaces, 76 pages, more than 300 pictures, plans and diagrams, dealing with both indoor and outdoor fireplaces. But if only interested in Outdoor Fireplaces, send 25 cents and check No. 2.
